

"Martin Dupras"
<martin_dupras@radio-can ada.ca>

06/11/2004 12:38 μμ

To <t.arvanitis@schenker.gr>

cc <Peter.Elek@schenker.ca>

Subject Thanks for your work in Athens - CBC

Dear M. Arvanitis,

Time goes by so fast.

More than two years ago, CBC started working on the Athens project and as we did, we expected them to be the most complicated games in our experience.

Two months have already passed since the last day and our gear has returned to Canada without any problems.

I would like to thank you for making these Games' logistics a success for the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

Please forward my congratulations to the great teams that worked in Avlona. We did not see them often throughout the Games, but felt their powerful presence behind the scenes. In addition, the feedback we received from the CBC teams who worked in your warehouse was "wonderful".

Also, please thank the airport team for every last-minute request and quick response. Broadcast television requires flexibility and many modifications, it is essential to have an air freight team that can turn on a dime.

Finally, I won't forget the unbelievable work completed by your IBC team. From the first day, they were on site and available every day to help us with any logistic issue. I still have no idea how they were able to provide so many hours of service in a short period of time with always the same quality, efficiency and always with a smile on their face!

I would like to personally thank your three musketeers: Eva, Jens and Joachim who were our friendly CBC contacts for the entire event.

To all of your team, again, thank you!

We look forward to working with your team in Torino.

Martin Dupras
CBC / Radio-Canada
Special Events Group Manager